

McBain-Houghton Lake Cop Tourney

By Max Ferguson

One of the most exciting basketball tournaments ever held here was made history Saturday night as four classy quintets who had fought hard to get a chance in the final "round-up" battled for the championships of their respective classes.

Capacity crowds witnessed every session of play and helped in a big way to make the meet a tremendous success. The group of spectators was so large that it increased the nervousness of teams that had never played before such a crowd previous to the tourney. Two members of the Michigan State Police were on hand all three nights to keep the congregation of fans under control.

Those who attended the final games Saturday evening witnessed the toppling of one 1935 champion from its throne as McBain won a thrilling 28-27 decision over Gaylord to annex the tournament Class C championship. Gaylord, after downing Grayling Thursday night by 20-19 and then beating Lake City Friday night, 21-20, was considered a good bet to cop the honors in the upper division but McBain flashed a brand of ball that kept the Top O' Michigan squad stepping and just couldn't be stopped.

Houghton Lake, by virtue of a two-point lead in the closing minutes of play defeated Roscommon, 19-17, to win the Class D trophy for the third straight year. Friday afternoon the boys from the Lake shore had to depend on their long shots in the last quarter to defeat Johannesburg, 34-22.

Thursday Night.

Johannesburg, 31; Vanderbilt, 20.—The Red and White ran wild over the team that had beaten them twice during the season in winning, 51-20. Johannesburg held the lead throughout the game and as the score indicates they were never seriously pressed by Vanderbilt.

Roscommon, 25; St. Mary's (Gaylord), 22.—Roscommon started their march to the finals by turning back a fighting Grayling team in a close game by 25-22. The two Borowiak brothers scored ten points each for the losers but it wasn't quite enough to win the ball game. In this game Coach Paul's charges displayed the brilliant passing and teamwork that carried them to the finals.

Gaylord, 20; Grayling, 19.—The tournament title hopes of Grayling high school's Northern Lights crumbled before the finals in the opening of Class C play as the homeboys fell by 20-19.

Winner of fifteen games in the regular schedule, Grayling saw the game decided on a foul shot in the late minutes when the clubs were deadlocked, 19-19. Benser paced the attack for the winners with nine points and G. Hanson accounted for six points for the losers.

The outcome of this game was a surprise to nearly everyone as Grayling had defeated the upstate five times during the season, but Gaylord played the kind of ball they always play in tournament competition and deserved to win.

Friday Afternoon.

Houghton Lake, 34; Johannesburg, 22.—The 1935 champs were kept real busy stopping the team that had scored 51 points in a game the night before and it wasn't until the final stanza that Houghton Lake put the game on ice by sinking some timely shots.

Roscommon, 21; Frederic, 19.—Our nearest neighbor on the North put up a real scrap before falling victims to Roscommon's powerful five. Frederic played heads-up ball all the way and it took a three-minute overtime—the only overtime in the meet—for them to be defeated. It was anybody's ball game to the final bell.

Friday Night.

Gaylord, 21; Lake City, 20.—Gaylord high school made it two straight wins as they downed Lake City's flashy red and black aggregation, 21-20.

Although B. Osowski scored eleven points for the losers, it wasn't enough to bridge the gap between victory and defeat. Glasser was high point man for Gaylord with ten points.

The hard game the night before with Grayling didn't seem to have much effect on the upstate boys, they came out as strong as ever to cop another victory.

McBain, 29; Mancelona, 15.—McBain had little trouble beating Mancelona in the other Class C game on the card. Mancelona has been tough to beat the two previous years they have been entered in our tourney, but did not have enough this year to win over the McBain outfit who played like champions even in this game.

Finals—Saturday Night.

Houghton Lake's rangy veterans won a thriller from Roscommon, 19-17, as they captured the Class-D honors. Coach Rankin's team had a slight advantage over their rivals in that they had played only one game and Roscommon had emerged victorious in two close contests to get a chance in the final-go. The game was a nip and tuck affair, furnishing plenty of excitement for the fans and had them on their feet to the last gong. This win made the third straight time Houghton Lake has beaten Roscommon this year so undoubtedly the best team won.

The big surprise of the tournament was McBain's 28-27 victory over Gaylord in winning the Class C trophy.

The game started at 9:00 o'clock and not a person in the gym had any peace of mind—or any rest until the game was over.

McBain started the scoring and garnered four points before Coach Makel's squad could find the hoop. After about four minutes the Blue and Gold began their scoring and the tally at the end of the first quarter was 7-4 in their favor.

The tables were turned in the second period as McBain unleashed an attack that netted them seven points while holding the Top O' Michigan team to four points. The score being tied at the half, 11-11, brought the mob to their feet and it was on their feet they remained, yelling at the top of their voice for their favorite.

Both teams settled down to work in the third stanza and considerable scoring was done by both. Gaylord managed to take the lead, scoring 9 points to McBain's 8.

Bachman Pleases Large Crowd

TELLS OF KIND OF FELLOW THAT CAN'T MAKE TEAM

It was a large and interested crowd of dads and lads that was present to enjoy an evening of fathers and sons together and to hear Charles Bachman, football coach at Michigan State college, relate interesting experiences on the gridiron. It was held at Michigan memorial church Monday evening.

The aroma of good things to eat drifting from the culinary department of the banquet room at once tempted the appetite and promised that the hungry dads and kids were not to be disappointed. The tables looked fine with their white linens and tableware, and bouquets of sweet peas.

The singing of America and invocation by Rev. Hans Junn, of the Danish Lutheran church, marked the beginning of a big night for Grayling's men- and boys and especially for the members of Grayling Kiwanis club who sponsored the affair.

Kiwanis song leader Frank Sales, with Mrs. C. G. Clippert, accompanist, soon had the big crowd singing as tho their very lives depended upon it. It was great fun.

President Emil Giegling introduced Attorney Charles Moore who was to be the toastmaster for the evening. "I have a great surprise for you," said Charley, in introducing the first number.

Through the courtesy of Chase & Sanborn and Major Bowes, we have with us one of the Major Bowes amateur quartettes who will now sing for us. That was enough to scare the liver out of any amateur, especially since the group was specially organized for the occasion and had had little rehearsal. Not a real musician in the group—Clippert, Sales, Miller and Schumann. But, by gingo, they didn't get the belt, altho President Emil would have shown good judgment had he rung down the curtain on this group. They sang "Daddy" and (they got an encore!) "Moonlight on the Colorado."

Toast To The Dads.

John Henry Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Holger Peterson, in a very pleasant way, toasted the dads. He said:

Mr. Toastmaster, Fathers and Sons: After that wonderful banquet, I believe it would be easier for me to speak on "Mothers," but that would never do at a fathers and sons banquet.

I think these fathers and sons meetings are a wonderful thing and it surely is fine the way so many men have turned out, bringing with them a son.

I feel honored to be called upon to give a toast to the Dads.

In days gone by, fathers were looked upon more as a breadwinner and the one who laid down the laws of the household, but the boy of today likes to look upon his father as a friend and one with whom he can discuss the topics of the day, or plan a hunting or fishing trip, or perhaps talk on a project under way in the workshop.

Most of our fathers did not have the advantages we fellows of today have, but they are willing to work untiringly so that we may have the advantages that the present day offers.

When one says father, there is no set form or type that spring into mind for each thinks of his own—tall or short; skinny or fat—for instance look at the array we have here tonight.

The term father is rather a collection of ideals. Just because a man may have a son does not necessarily make him a true father. The term father means more than just that. One may apply father to a man as we apply character and personality to humans; that which raises us from animals.

What little fellow does not swell with pride at some accomplishment of his dad's, which requires skill or strength, and how pleased if that same father will condescend to participate in games with him, or help run his new train, providing of course the son gets a turn once in a while.

As we grow older we are proud to look to our Dads for intelligent counsel and respect him for the place he has made for himself in the world, whether it be large or small as long as he has done his task well.

We like to think of our fathers as well mannered, kind and considerate of us as well as others. We are pleased with the interest he shows in our friends and we (Continued on last page)

A History-Making Winter

Public Opinion

March 11, 1936

The Editor: An article appeared in your issue of the 11th in reference to the program in this vicinity of trapping deer, same being under the supervision of the Department of Conservation.

It is the opinion of the writer that such a program is the best of all programs for the purpose of increasing the results of the deer population. Past experience has proven that deer are scarce and tagged have returned to the point of origin when they were trapped. If so the program means a waste of money.

A better method would be to trap deer and sell them in a deer pen. The deer would be sold to the public when it is difficult to find deer in the market. Also, the deer would be sold to the public at a low price, and what is left of the money would be used to pay the cost of the program.

All Stray Dogs To Be Picked Up

Authoritative information comes to the Avalanche that beginning Saturday City officers have been instructed to impound all dogs running at large, whether or not they bear a license tag, or not they bear a license tag.

This is the second step in the campaign to rid the City of those nuisances. When the ordinance was passed it was thought that if only the unlicensed dogs were impounded the dog population would be reduced to a point where further enforcement would be required. However, a good many people seemed to think that if a dog was licensed it could roam the streets at will.

Those who allow their dogs to run the streets should not be surprised if they find up morning since it is the avowed intention to impound all dogs running at large.

In the hope of this, the Grayling High School, at the suggestion of the city, has organized a dog club. The club has been organized to help the city in its campaign to rid the streets of stray dogs.

Wood Cutter Gets Severely Burned

George Sampson, 51 years old, a pulpwood cutter who lived with his wife and child in a small house on the corner of Grayling and Main streets, was burned to death Friday afternoon while cutting wood. The fire started in the kitchen and spread to the living room. The fire was caused by a gas stove that was not properly adjusted. The fire was discovered by a neighbor who called the fire department. The firemen arrived at the scene and fought the fire for about an hour. The fire was finally brought under control, but the house was a total loss. George Sampson was found dead in the kitchen. The fire department is investigating the cause of the fire.

KEEP HUMMEL FOR SUPERVISOR

When Alfred Hummel, supervisor of Maple Forest township, says that he will not be a candidate for reelection this spring, that would mean that the people of that township are losing one of the best supervisors that ever served them.

Mr. Hummel is an industrious business farmer, has an intelligent understanding, is always ready to listen to suggestions, has a sense of real economy, and fidelity to trust. We have watched the official work of Mr. Hummel and have gained a high respect for his judgment.

Of course, serving a county that requires so much and has so little to do with isn't an enviable job and we can hardly blame a man for wanting to get out of it. However, we cannot help but feel that should he be permitted to retire at this time, as he plans to do, that Maple Forest and Crawford county will lose a very able and valuable official. We believe this is the consensus of opinion of the majority of the property owners in his home township.

We hope Mr. Hummel will change his mind.

WOULD TAX SURPLUSES

Few things could have caused as much surprise on Capitol Hill as the President's suggestion that the present method of taxing corporations be replaced with a heavy one on surpluses.

Some members talked about the idea with reluctance, many others criticized it bitterly. Heard frequently in the discussion was the reminder that in the four years beginning in 1930, American business spent $27,000,000,000 of its earnings, surplus, for depreciation costs.

In the comparative period, the federal government spent about $10,000,000,000. In three years, 1929 through 1932, private business spent $6,000,000,000 more than it took in, and all of that came out of surpluses.

One of the biggest automobile makers in a single year, now upon its savings for the tremendous sum of $60,000,000.

In other discussions, there was talk of "socialism." It was pointed out that the federal government's non-savings were wiped out by these "social" corporations, and these would have to be paid for by the taxpayer.

FREDERIC SCHOOL

Now that the basketball tournament is over we are getting to work in earnest for our school year. We do not know the exact date yet but it will likely be in two or three weeks. We are being kept up a little at present due to the fact our play books are longer in arriving than we anticipated.

We wish to show our appreciation to all and everyone for their interest and support during the tournament at Grayling, as well as during the regular school year. We do appreciate it greatly and know it has helped in the outcome of our games.

The Juniors are making plans for serving dinner to the members of the election board at the coming spring election.

We extend to Houghton Lake and Mellen, who were the winners of the district tournament at Grayling, our best wishes of success when they compete in the regional tournament at Petoskey.

The game at Grayling last Friday afternoon ended the high school basketball career of four of our players. They are Lewis S. Haggren, Nelson Vollmer, and Elmo Chaplow who are graduates, and Charles Horton, who is playing his fourth year of basketball. We wish them success wherever they are.

The class in Shop are making some tables at present. There is a checkerboard inlaid on the top, checkers and it can also be used as a well used for a card table.

Many of the boys from the high school have entered the district or 22 club again.

The seniors get many more movie invitations, they won't have to buy any.

Lewis Murphy seems to be making considerable exercise in going to the north end of town and especially since the winter has been ill. We wonder if it is just the exercise that makes his cheeks red.

Shirley Corbett says that he enjoys hard work that is when somebody else is doing it.

Billy Wallace, who has been out of school because of a broken leg, is back again. We are glad to see his cheery smile and hear his laughter again.

"Chuck" Horton says that the big days are over. He has a new car to a mechanic.

The auto shop boys seem to be a new lot. They are always underfoot.

Members of the H. H. Sewing club have completed their aprons and are busy picking out patterns for what to be their next project. Some will be a dress.

The H. H. girls have nearly completed their dresses. They are so busy they are criticized in a way as they are still in the shop.

Mr. Murphy is to be news editor for next week.

One of our bankrupt in a discussion. It they got federal money, they would be private.

These things which would complete the picture of the federal government's non-savings were wiped out by these "social" corporations, and these would have to be paid for by the taxpayer.

RADIO "DEBUNKING"—BUT PEOPLE LIKE IT

Speaking of radio, there's a little "debunking" concerning the Major Bowes' amateur contests. One studio manager calls them the "greatest racket" ever put over on the American public. Every line spoken on the Sunday evening programs is carefully rehearsed and there are many "build-ups" to bring about the desired emotional reactions from studio and radio audiences, he says. My informant, who was in the New York studio several Sunday nights ago, informs me as follows:

"For instance, the young lady from Dakota, who fainted as she was introduced before the microphone, really didn't faint, although even the studio audience thought she did. Rather, it was a clever 'build up.' Then some 'punk' was put on for a number, which was terrible and terrible and he got the going. Remember how gentle and tender the Major was as the young lady came back and was asked if she could 'go on?' And then she sang with a beautiful cultured voice, under perfect control every moment, while the audience sat enraptured and amazed."

"Do you recall the 'singing garbage man,' who spoke only in broken English with an Italian dialect, no lessons, or education and a drab environment? Yet in a superb tenor voice he sang a snatch of Italian opera. After the program I met him and visited with him. College educated, speaking in perfect English and minus his overalls, the nearest he has ever been to a garbage wagon is probably to hold a half-spoiled orange in his hand, since his father is a successful fruit market owner."

"Major Bowes has a 'sweet racket.' His broadcast pays him $4,000 per week, he averages $1,000 per week from each one of the dozen or more units touring the country, has recently concluded a series of movie shorts on his contests, and is commencing every angle of the thing. Those youngsters out on the road average between $10 and $25 per week, plus expenses and how they are exploited."

"The Bowes' programs are good for another six months yet, since the public likes them and is easy to fool." Parina News.

Grange Notes

George Annis reports that he had two big bald eagles flying over his home last Wednesday.

Elmer Osterander saw a bunch of bluejays last week, several have seen crows, so spring must be just around the corner. But we do think it's playing the winter game.

All members are requested to be in attendance at our next meeting Saturday, March 21st, as we have some business of interest to all. We will have a debate during the lecture hour, the title of which is "Resolved that the Grange own their own hall." Two teams were selected as follows:

George Annis, William Woodburn, John Knecht, Flora Skaggs, Elizabeth Sorenson.

Miss Agnes Schrieber is on the sick list.

Everyone along the river is putting up ice, Mr. Worthy Master Hugo Schrieber, being among them.

You HAVE MORE ROOM BECAUSE THE FORD V-8 ENGINE TAKES LESS ROOM

Behind Every Feature of the 1936 Ford Is the Standard of V-8 Engine Quality

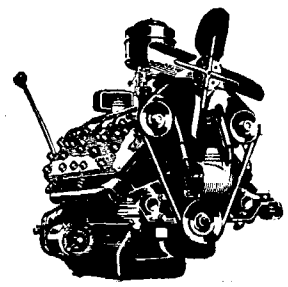

THE compact design of the Ford V-8 engine allows more of the car's length to be used for passenger room. This is just one way in which this engine from the luxury-car class adds to your comfort as a driver and to the comfort of your passengers in the new Ford.

For years the finest cars have been distinguished by a V-type engine. Ford brought this type of engine within the reach of the average motorist. The next great forward step was to make every feature of the Ford car measure up to the quality of the V-8 engine.

You can see the interesting results in the new Ford V-8 for 1936. Comfort, beauty, driving ease and safety—all are in keeping with its V-8 engine quality.

Washington Notes And Comments

By Congressman Roy O. Woodruff
Tenth Michigan District

President Roosevelt's demand that Congress place upon the shoulders of the already overburdened taxpayers of the nation an additional burden of more than eleven hundred millions of dollars brings more sharply to the attention of the public the prodigal way in which the national substance is being dissipated by the Administration.

That public funds are being frittered to the four winds is a matter of common knowledge. Every community can testify to this. What is not generally known outside Washington, however, is that this waste and inefficiency has been raised to the nth degree in the handling of the organizations of the many affiliated agencies. Verification of this condition from the pen of an employee of the Resettlement Administration, who of course is a Democrat, otherwise would not have the job he holds, has come to me in the form of a letter, which I quote as follows:

"That is the question at this time. We have wasted at specialing thousands, saying: 'On that, not much' till the money is just faced.

"Why not begin to improve by ordering more of the agencies and without agencies? And for the sake of common decency begin with the Resettlement Administration where—

"First, the Administration has payroll reached over $2,000,000 per month.

"Second, thirteen thousand chair-warmers are doing and duplicating each other's work—and nearly all of it useless work.

"Third, eight hundred and ninety-four persons in the Administration engaged in 'management' but so far no one has been able to find out what they manage.

"Fourth, more than 3,500 employees of Resettlement are receiving salaries in excess of civil service ratings—all because they have pull and friends.

"Fifth, the Administration's construction division is spending for labor to the tune of $30,000 per day—enough to build a house for every man, woman and child in the country.

"Sixth, and this Hundreds of the higher salaried employees know that they are on dignified relief, but why dish out relief at the rate of $2,500 to $5,000 per year per person?

"Seventh, of all the headaches in present administration will be the one when the public really finds out what a disorganized, forlorn, wasteful agency the Resettlement is.

"Eighth, and you may be interested in knowing that many have left the Resettlement to save their self-respect, and the writer of this will do so soon.

This is the agency referred to as 'Utopia Unlimited' in a series of articles appearing recently in the Washington Post. One of the striking aspects of the Resettlement Administration is that it was brought into existence, not by Act of Congress, but by Executive Order of the President.

These are the facts, according to H. Merrill Wilks, meteorologist of the U. S. Weather Bureau and director of the Michigan State Weather Service. During the past 48 years the average Michigan snowfall has been 54 inches. Seven times it has reached 70 inches or more, in 1893, 1901, 1909, 1923, 1924, 1926 and 1929. Only three such falls came in the first 35 years of this period, with four in the last 43 years.

Incidentally, the north coast of Marquette county has an average fall of 100 inches, exceeded nowhere in the nation, except in mountain regions. Present prospects point to the likelihood of another 70 inch record for Michigan this winter, Wilks said.

Complaints from highway authorities that the snow this year has been very difficult to move, were explained by Wilks, who showed that the repeated, wind-packed snowfalls, without warm periods, have resulted in a high density type of snow. Seventeen inches of snow tested at Lansing showed a water density of 37 from which they came.

When snow is of the age of 14 and 25 years with little or no respiration, it is a hard mass, a group of particles as they are called, which is so compact that it is almost impossible to become anything else. It is true, that not all snow is of this type, but the snow that has been piled up in the valleys, and on the roads, is of this type, and it is this type of snow that is so difficult to move.

In view of the conditions existing, which are typical of the conditions in the various alphabetical set-ups, I shall not vote additional taxes upon the people of this country to be wasted by these irresponsible in Washington.

Far above other low priced cars in all but cost!

TERRAPLANE

Yes, different from other low priced cars—and far ahead of the rest—in style and everything else that counts! Can we prove this? Just look at a few facts about Terraplane.

Wheelbase, over-all length, inside leg room, head room, shoulder room—unmatched by any low priced car. Untouched by some costing $125 and $145 more.

"Extras" At No Extra Cost

Of all low priced cars only Terraplane gives you—at no extra cost—a rear opening baggage compartment with more room than the average trunk model, with spare tire lying flat inside.

Power—the same story. Terraplane is ahead of other cars in its price class by as much as 18 horsepower. And no vibration at any speed! Terraplanes with 125,000, 150,000 miles and more to their credit show you what that smoothness means in long life.

23.95 Miles per Gallon

Interested in economy? Here is Terraplane's latest—23.95 officially certified miles per gallon over 352 miles of mountain roads, with three passengers and baggage, in the recent Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run.

PRESENT WINTERS ARE PROTEST SHOULD BE MADE WHAT THEY USED TO BE. OR MORE SO

"Winters, they aren't what they used to be," the old-time familiar refrain, has been fully upheld by weather bureau statistics at the meeting of the Michigan Highway Council, held in Ann Arbor recently. If it is snowfall this winter, it refers to recent winters, there been all they used to be, or more so.

These are the facts, according to H. Merrill Wilks, meteorologist of the U. S. Weather Bureau and director of the Michigan State Weather Service. During the past 48 years the average Michigan snowfall has been 54 inches. Seven times it has reached 70 inches or more, in 1893, 1901, 1909, 1923, 1924, 1926 and 1929. Only three such falls came in the first 35 years of this period, with four in the last 43 years.

Incidentally, the north coast of Marquette county has an average fall of 100 inches, exceeded nowhere in the nation, except in mountain regions. Present prospects point to the likelihood of another 70 inch record for Michigan this winter, Wilks said.

Complaints from highway authorities that the snow this year has been very difficult to move, were explained by Wilks, who showed that the repeated, wind-packed snowfalls, without warm periods, have resulted in a high density type of snow. Seventeen inches of snow tested at Lansing showed a water density of 37 from which they came.

When snow is of the age of 14 and 25 years with little or no respiration, it is a hard mass, a group of particles as they are called, which is so compact that it is almost impossible to become anything else. It is true, that not all snow is of this type, but the snow that has been piled up in the valleys, and on the roads, is of this type, and it is this type of snow that is so difficult to move.

In view of the conditions existing, which are typical of the conditions in the various alphabetical set-ups, I shall not vote additional taxes upon the people of this country to be wasted by these irresponsible in Washington.

The CCC camps in Michigan are not only important to the young men enrolled in them, but they have helped greatly as a solution to local relief problems. They have taken members of families on relief and put them in camps where they no longer are burdens to our already over-

TREATMENT OF STOMACH
ULCERS

Reliable statistics indicate that between 5 and 10 per cent of the population at some time or other suffer from ulcer of the stomach, or first part of the intestine. In our climate the symptoms of ulcer become acute usually in the fall or spring of the year. It is highly important that ulcers be treated promptly so that serious complications, such as hemorrhage and perforation with resulting peritonitis, be avoided. Of the thousands of patients with this condition, most of them are aware that ulcer symptoms frequently recur even several years after their first appearance.

The first step in treatment is to establish the diagnosis of ulcer. This can be done by the history, physical examination and X-ray studies of the gastro-intestinal tract. The history alone is extremely valuable in most cases and, when correctly obtained, should suggest the advisability of an X-ray examination.

Ulcers can scarcely be over-emphasized, that is to say, the treatment must be carried out exactly as directed by the physician for a fairly long period of time. We are frequently asked how long it will take the ulcer to heal. The evidence seems to indicate that four or five months are necessary, although the pain may disappear in as short a time as three or four days. Disappearance of the pain means only the beginning of treatment and not the end.

The standard treatment of duodenal ulcer consists of frequent feeding of non-irritating foods which tend to neutralize the acid secretion of the stomach. The basis of the diet is milk and cream given at intervals of one to two hours during the day. Later eggs, cream soups and cereals are added. The medicinal treatment also is calculated to neutralize the acid secretion and promote frequent emptying of the stomach. It has been found by experiment that studies of ulcers in patients that cause foods to neutralize the acid of an ulcer, and that soft food tends to promote healing.

The symptoms of ulcer in the first part of the small intestine (stomach) are a burning pain appears from two to three hours after meals. This is when the stomach is nearly empty. This pain also occurs commonly at night. Usually food or soda will relieve it. With the appearance of these symptoms an examination by the family physician should be obtained in order to determine the presence of an ulcer. Surgical intervention is carried out only after efficient medical treatment has shown that complications exist which are not removable by dietary and medicinal measures. Occasionally, cancer results when an ulcer of the stomach has been present for a long period of time. In the vast majority of cases it is not a cancerous ulcer.

The central point in the treatment of ulcer is in its recognition. It is persistent and its treatment is directed. The ulcer is completely healed after treatment. The necessary steps in the treatment of ulcer are: 1. Recognition of the ulcer. 2. Medical treatment. 3. Surgical intervention.

WAR ON WORMS AIDS
LITTLE PIGS

Prevention against the spread of the parasite which causes the disease known as "hog cholera" is being carried out by the Michigan State Department of Agriculture. The disease is a very serious one, and is highly contagious. It is caused by a parasite which is found in the feces of infected pigs. The parasite is very small and is easily spread. It is important that all pigs be kept clean and that their feces be disposed of properly. The Michigan State Department of Agriculture is working to prevent the spread of this disease by educating the public and by providing information to pig raisers.

The eggs of the parasite are microscopic in size and may live for years in the soil or in and about the hog houses. The young pigs need protection until they are three or four months old, after which time they become resistant and the worms do not cause them much trouble.

Among the Clerks

(By J. Wellington Bumsted)

Mac & Gidley's is now dignified by the recently-acquired services of two clerks of long standing, Nadine McNeven, formerly of the Central drug store, and Edna Muth, of the Hanson Cafe.

Friday a Mr. and Mrs. of some unknown city or village paid a very brief visit to the Hanson Cafe, when they left they were lightly richer, taking with them everything portable except the waiter's shoes and that was because they didn't fit!

According to the report of one of the Hanson Cafe boys, his name is kept secret for business reasons, the C.C.C. patronage at the Cafe is picking up—he says, "Maybe it is because of the blond waitress!"

Friz Heath, of the Plaza Grill, seems to have graduated from the headlines and is apparently a "forgotten" man. He is frequently to be seen standing on street corners or leaning forlornly against lamp posts—watching the world go by and counting the days until he will be back on the job. That's what we're doing—counting the days!

We are wondering if that is a murderous glint which lights the eye of our former butcher—or is it just that George's conscience is being haunted by all those poor innocent beasts he must have slaughtered by this time!

It is whispered around that Irene Swarthout, of Shoppens Inn, is about to put it over on us. At least, it is generally known that she is making a mysterious trip to Flint this week. Such being the case, most of us are wondering just what will happen to a certain member of the truck driver's union!

Russell Robertson and Elmer Fenton are beginning to acquire a very "harried" appearance. Maybe this recreational stuff is getting them down. On the other hand both boys are great basketball fans and it may be just a "let down" following Grayling's one of the little "Avalanche" boys. A very recent was heard of a young fellow from a local town who had been to camp on the island and was basking in the sun. He was seen at the Grayling Mercantile Company.
